Dear Parents and Carers:

Welcome to the Summer Term! This term's value is Determination!

"The ability to continue trying to do something, although it is very difficult..." How very apt!

From all the emails and photos everyone has been very busy this week... I've prepared another three page epic! We have lots of new recipes, lots of very old jokes, poetry and plenty of updates from children at both schools. As you will have seen from the website, Learning Pack 2 is available for both classes and there are plenty of new web links.

Below we have some excellent PE for you prepared by Mr Taylor... Enjoy... Parents and staff too...

On Monday after school, all the staff attended an online training session for our learning platform "Purple Mash" which was brilliant as it was the first time we had all been together since the lockdown. With that in mind, please don't forget to stay in touch with your class teachers. Please find their email addresses below.

 Out and about this week...

Emily Pye (FV Yr6)

I hope you and all the teachers are well.

I have been busy doing my homework, baking cakes, drawing and painting pictures, walking the dogs every day, keeping fit and helping my Dad in the garden (painted the shed).

Recently, my Dad and me have been helping out our elderly neighbours by running errands for them. I also painted them a rainbow to cheer them up and in return, they wrote me a lovely poem about that rainbow. A few days later, I received another wonderful poem about Spring. So I drew and coloured them a Spring picture to match the poem.

I told your dad I'd write again,

So here I am in my poetry den.

What can I say to grab you attention?

I think I know something that deserves a mention.

Spring has arrived, such a wonderful season,
 My favourite time, and here are the reasons:
 Blackbirds and Dunnocks, Blue tits and Robins,
 Just some of our birds, busy and bobbing.

Gathering, nesting and making us laugh,
 As they shake all their muck off in our bird bath.
 Adorable lambs coming into the world,
 With tight woolly coats and tails short and curled.

Catkins and blossom laden our trees,
 If Spring lasted forever... I'd really be pleased.

All the above are here for our pleasure,
 Cheering us up in our sad, enforced leisure.

An update...

This week I haven't done that much work on the computer for you, but I can tell you that I have read three Harry Potter books this week. Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets, Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban and Harry Potter and the Goblet of fire. Which in total means I have read 1,551 pages of Harry Potter. There is my daily dose of Mr Bargh's Maths for me. That is the thing that I am the most proud of. I am, at the moment, 106 pages into Harry Potter and The Order of the Phoenix. Not to brag, but that is a lot of reading for one week, wouldn't you agree? Um... I did do a Harry Potter Book Review and am doing a story. Our tadpoles haven't really changed that much since last week. We also have an assault course rather than running!

Georgia Smith (FV YrR)
Grace Smith (Fv Yr2)

Modelling their wonderful Easter hats that they had made...

Isabella Place (NY Yr4)

Me and Corban having been drawing pictures for the residents in a care home where my mummy works to help cheer people up and they have been put outside of the care home in Tattershall. You can see them when we drive past...

3. Cut the onion into 8 pieces. Put the onion into the inner pot of the instant pot or pressure cooker.
4. Pour the can of pop into the pot over the onion.
5. Set the pork on top of the onions. Sprinkle the brown sugar over the pork.
6. Place the lid on and lock in place. Set the steam release knob to the sealing position.
7. Press the pressure cook/manual cook and then set the time to 65 minutes.
8. When finished, let the pot sit for 15 minutes untouched. Then turn the steam release knob to the venting position to manually quick release the remaining pressure.
9. Open the lid and remove the meat to a large bowl. Use a slotted spoon to get the onion out and add to the meat.
10. Use 2 forks to shred the meat.
11. Sprinkle the reserve rub and 1/2 tsp of salt onto the meat. Mix well. Taste and add more salt or brown sugar if desired.
12. Use a large spoon to skim off the fat from the liquid. Then add 1/2 cup of the liquid to the meat and mix in. You can add more liquid if desired.
13. Serve on buns, or over rice or potatoes, or tortillas.

E-safety

As we're all coming to terms with the new 'normal' and trying to predict what the future holds, one thing is certain when it comes to online safety - the landscape prior to the lockdown compared to when schools return will have changed significantly. We already know that children are using many different apps and games. We suspect that due to this, and the fact that children are going to be spending much more time online, specifically socialising and having fun, they are going to be seeing lots more inappropriate content unless appropriate safeguards are in place. We have a couple of links below to help:
